These were collected in the same area as the last species. They were found growing here both in savanna and in open wood and in savannas along the river bottoms and along water courses and ridges and in grassy fields and savannas and in the vine thickets and savannas near.

the following year he received an offer of a post which was to be filled by a man who had been engaged in the same work for a number of years.
He accepted the offer and began his work at once.
